

GROUP & GROUP MEMBER RESPONSIBILITIES

The success of the group will depend on the cooperation and professionalism of its members. Employers will expect you to know how to work effectively in groups: how to determine what needs to be done; how to find information; how to assess information; how to share the workload; and how to resolve interpersonal conflicts that might arise. Effective collaboration includes, but is not limited to:

- Participating fully (in spirit and actuality)
- Participating professionally (i.e., civil discourse; abiding by the rules of academic honesty)
- Meeting responsibilities (i.e., completing assigned tasks on time and to the best of your ability)
- Taking the consequences of not abiding by the group's rules.
- Giving group members appropriate credit where due
- Not giving credit where it isn't due

After reading through this document, each member needs to initial each item and then sign the document at the end. Return it to the instructor who will make copies for your group. If you disagree with these rules, then as a group amend them. They must be approved by the instructor, however.
